Marine and Aviation

October 2007

Introduction

Vero National Marine and Vero Aviation are pleased to announce that with effect from September 2007 they have combined to form one division – Vero Marine and Aviation.

This is an exciting development given Vero's commitment to the Trade and Transport industry.

Both Vero Aviation and Vero National Marine have a significant presence in their respective markets and together they form one of the largest Trade and Transport insurers in the Australasian market.

Vero Marine and Aviation will continue to utilise the expertise of specialist staff and a worldwide network to provide innovative insurance solutions for the marine, aviation and transport sectors.

This newsletter introduces key staff and summarises the available policies.
